Today is the first day of summer. School is out and the demand for public swimming pools is in. Colleges have disgorged their students and many collegians are looking for summer jobs. Many of them find work as lifeguards. One of their tasks at the beginning of the season is to make sure that every kid who wades into the deep water is able to swim.

When we were little kids along Lime Creek in Fertile, Iowa, the only lifeguards we ever had were our mothers. After we developed a certain degree of comfort and ability in the river they no longer watched us every time we went to the water. One of our favorite places to paddle during the hot days of summer was little rill running along the south side of the park. The deepest pools there were less than thirty inches deep, and the water cascading down from the bay above created a current that enabled us to drift along in the water. All we were able to do was stay afloat, but the stream carrying us along made us think we were actually swimming. In time we were, but at first it was nothing more than flow-assisted floating.

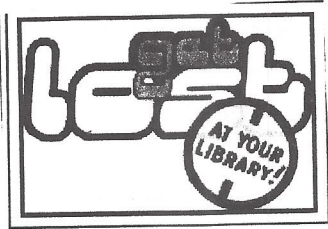

The "big kids" got to swim above the dam where the water was up to ten feet deep in places. As a matter of survival anyone who entered the deep water above the dam had to know how to swim out of trouble, at least across the river and back.

When I finally felt comfortable with the idea of swimming above the dam my dad insisted in seeing me swim across the river before granting me that freedom. One soft summer evening both of us went down to the dam and Dad watched as I did it with no difficulty at all. He always said he thought I had been swimming above the dam before I passed the test. I hadn't, but never told him that. It was our little joke.

Swimming above the dam was much better than in the little stream. There were no rocks on the bottom on which we could stub our toes. The water moved much more slowly unless the river was high or the mill was running. During those two times we were especially cautious not to get too near the dam nor the intake for the water wheels that powered the mill. We heard that in the distant past some boy had drowned when he was sucked onto the intake grill. We had seen the water rushing out below the dam when the mill was running, and we could feel the draw when the miller opened up the sluice gates "big wheel." None of us wanted to challenge that force.

About one hundred feet up stream from the dam the town fathers poured a concrete pier for a diving board. They bolted a three-inch-thick plank to the platform and that served as our diving board. They covered it with burlap sacks to improve our foot traction. We did our best to perfect the swan dive, the jack-knife and the cannon ball. Along the way we performed a few belly flops, much to the amusement of other swimmers. We labeled another crazy dive we practiced "spank the baby." Standing on the end of the board, we gave it a little bounce and then dropped to our seats on the end of the board. If our timing was right we sat squarely on the board and on the downbeat. The upbeat enabled us to bounce up off the board and to complete the dive entering the water head first. If our aim or timing was wrong we got spanked on our bottoms or scraped the backs of our legs on the end of the board. That hurt both pride and hide more than a beautiful belly-flop.

Swimming is a lot more safe and sanitary these days, but I doubt that today's swimmers enjoy it any more than we did back in muddy Lime Creek. Copyright, Neil L. Kuns, 1996

LIBRARY NEWS:

WOW! We raised over $800 on our big sale Saturday, May 1 during the city wide garage sales. There are still some videos for sale at the library. Everything else was taken to Opportunity Village after the sale. A big thanks to those who worked late the night before & those who were back by 6:30 AM to set up. And many thanks to those who generously donated items to sell. This money will be used to purchase more books, videos, DVD's, & audio books.

Thank you to Max Nye for donating his Mother's telephone operator's chair to the library. Aimee Nye was operator in Fertile for 31 years. Her chair is now being used at a computer station & is again serving the community.

We celebrated National Library Week with "Happy 100th Dr. Seuss!" on Monday, April 19. The Cat in the Hat was read by Mayor Joyce Russell & Board President Bobbi Elbert read The Foot Book. Green Eggs & Ham were served with blue punch & crazy straws. Everyone was given Cat in the Hat mazes, dot to dot pictures to complete & book marks to color.

This year's summer reading program will be Discover New Trails @ Your Library. Sherry Kinston will again be helping with the program. Watch for signs with dates & times.

TALORA NELSON

1915 - 2004

Talora C. Nelson, age 88, of Buffalo Center, died on April 2004 at Mercy Medical Center, Mason City, IA.

Funeral services were held May 2004 at the First Congregational Church in Buffalo Center with Rev. Paul Haugen officiating. Burial was at Olena Mound Cemetery, Buffalo Center.

Talora Clarinda (Tweed) Nelson, the daughter of Ole J. and Annie (Ramsey) Tweed was born on May 26, 1915 at the Tweed farmhouse in rural Joice. She attended school and quit after the ninth grade to care for her ailing mother for eight years. She also worked for her brother-in-law at Elthon's Pioneer Store in Fertile for several years.

On March 6, 1949, Talora was united in marriage with Sam Nelson at the Lutheran parsonage in Lake Mills. The couple made their home farming southeast of Buffalo Center. Talora was a devoted farm wife who helped her husband with all the duties on the farm. Following Sam's death in 1978, Talora continued to oversee custom farming of the land. In addition to farm life, Talora also worked at the Coffee Shop in Buffalo Center. She truly enjoyed cooking and sharing her talents with others.

Survivors include her children, Mary Long and her band, Roger, of Algona and Mark Nelson and his wife, Kathi of Buffalo Center; grandchildren, Jeremy Long and his wife, Leigh Ann of Ames, Richard Long and his wife, Marian of Algona, Spencer Nelson of Buffalo Center and Reese Nelson of Buffalo Center; two sisters, Gladys Westland of Hastings, MN and Iona Mae Alexander of Lake Villa, IL; a sister-in-law, June Tweed of Forest City; and many nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Sam in 1978; sisters, Amanda Amundson, Theresa Roth, Agnes Suby, Alvina Brosdahl, Lillian Elthon and Frances Hall; and a brother, Almer Tweed, Almer's twin infant sister (also named Alvina), and an unnamed infant brother and a half-sister, Hazel Brue.

Our deepest sympathy to the family.

FERTILE GARDEN CLUB

The April meeting of the Fertile Garden Club was held on April 13 at the home of Fern Midtgaard. Kristin Mikes was a hostess with Fern. Nineteen members were present.

We opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance. Pat Lohman gave a presentation on "Color your world (arranging plants by color) and Gardening for Dummies"

Roll Call was "What flower has a special meaning to you?"

Money has been given by the family of Reva Anderson and the club will buy a tree or rush bush in her honor. We discussed having a "Memory Garden" for all the members who have died. Discussion was held on where to have it. It will be discussed more later.

The Annual Plant Sale was the main topic of discussion. The date for the Plant Sale will be May 1, from 9:00—10:30 a.m. Diane has finished the plant sale price cards. Pat Lohman & Kristen Mikes to do the posters for around towns. Evelyn will pick up the plants from Krieger's. We will bring our plants and have them priced on Friday evening from 4 to 7 p.m. On April 29th. members will go to dig plants for those who can't dig. Diane will contact the Mason City Men's Club about selling Coco Bean Mulch. Each member to bring their May Basket in a brown paper bag, with their name inside. Also each member is to bring 1 dozen bars or cookies.

Thought for the day was given by Elaine Patten. We closed by singing the table prayer. A delicious lunch was served by Fern & Kristen.

Dear Ladies,

Thanks so much for such a terrific job you do on the Fertile Reminder. It means a lot to the City of Fertile and everyone that receives this paper.

Keep up the great job. We really appreciate it.

Joyce Russell

Dear Ladies,

Please renew the Fertile Reminder for the year. I enjoy reading "today's news" of what's happening in my hometown.

Janice (Ritter) Kitchen

Dear Reminder Ladies,

Thank you for keeping us informed with news from Fertile. Enclosed is a check to keep the Reminder coming.

If I have made any grammatical errors, please correct them since Mrs. Evans has renewed her subscription. She was a great English teacher.

Yours truly,

Arlyn Abrams

Dear Ladies,

I sure missed receiving the Reminder. Please renew.
 Sorry. Fran Tibbits

Dear Ladies,

Superb Job! Enclosed is a check for $6.00 to renew the Reminder for another year. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,

THANK YOU!

A great big "Thank You" to everone who attended my 90th birthday party May 2nd, and for all cards, gifts, hugs and well wishes. Special thanks to my family who put on the party and to all those kind people who worke in the kitchen and cleaned up afterwards. I surely enjoyed the program and seeing my family take part.

Thank you all!

Thank you also for the special messages that were written in some of the cards. You made my day.

What a wonderful 90th birthday.

God bless you all. Love,

Viola Roberts

P. S. Thank you to whoever left the beautiful "Imperial" plant at my back door May 3rd or 4th. There was no card with it so "Thank You!, whoever you are."

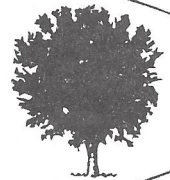

THANK YOU!

To all who brought cards on my birthday - a special "thank you". To Jane and Al a very special "thank you."

Shower Honors Janice Gudmonson

A shower was given in honor of Janice Gudmonson July 11 at the Fertile Lutheran Church. The color scheme was carried out in blue and white. The program was arranged by Mrs. Norman Rye and read by Mrs. Fred Luker. Mrs. Arnold Hedin led devotions and sang a solo. Mrs. Gordon Levad gave a reading as did Mrs. John Backhaus and Mrs. Fred Luker. Her sister, Mary Ellen Gudmonson played a piano solo.

Jean Gudmonson and Mary Ellen Gudmonson assisted the bride at the table with her gifts. Debbie Hijlek and Shawn Gudmonson carried the gifts to the table.

The shower was given by friends of Mrs. Gudmonson and Janice. Janice was married to Wayne Wagoner Saturday evening at the Fertile Lutheran Church and left for Denver, Colo. where they will make their home.

LIFE and LIVING A HAPPIER LIFE

Happiness is a way of life, an overriding outlook composed of qualities as optimism, courage, love and fulfillment. There are five primary traps that ensnare people who are trying with all their heart to be happy.

- Trap #1 Trying to buy happiness - one cannot buy true happiness.
- Trap #2 Pleasure - instant gratification is only temporary.
- Trap #3 Trying to resolve the past - present and future you can change.
- Trap #4 Overcoming weakness - working with your abilities and talents.
- Trap #5 Trying to force happiness - improving the existing work.

You can summons a happier life by being honest with yourself and by developing qualities of happiness. Examine where you stand in using these positive tools and how you might best achieve them.

COOK'S KORNER

HONEY-GLAZED BABY CARROTS

- 3 tablespoons honey
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 teaspoon orange rind
- 1 tablespoon poppy seed (optional)
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 15-20 baby carrots cooked, but still a little crisp.

Combine all ingredients except the carrots in a skillet, bring to a boil. Add carrots and simmer for 5 minutes (longer, if you want your carrots more done). Turn them over frequently to get them well coated. Yields 6 servings of delicious carrots!

>>>>>>>>>>

There are lots of rhubarb recipes out there, and I tried one out of the Fertile Cookbook sent in by Sharon Ganz. It was really good and not a lot of work. Hope you don't mind Sharon that I put it in the Reminder for others to try.

RHUBARB BARS 350° 40 minutes

- 1 3/4 cup flour
- 2/3 cup butter
- 2 tbsp. Sugar
- (I used oleo)
- 1 tsp. Baking Powder
- 1/2 cup nut meats
- 2 egg yolks, beaten

Press into 9x13 cake pan. Bake 10 min. 350°

Filling—

- 2 egg yolks, beaten
- 1 3/4 cup sugar
- 5 tbsp. flour + if
- 3 or 4 cups rhubarb, finely cut up.
- need to thicken

Pour this filling over baked crust.

Beat 4 egg whites, until stiff with 3/4 cup sugar. Cover the filling and bake for 30 minutes more.
